Dance Studios all over America will compete for the title of "America's Best Dance Studio 2009". The winner of the contest will be announced on May 1, 2009. "What better time is there to announce the winner of this contest, but during National Dance Week!", stated CEO/President, Ashani C. Kiner.

This contest highlights the tremendous impact that dance studios have on dance students throughout the nation. Kiner Enterprises Inc. is thrilled to be hosting a nationwide event of this magnitude that offers great prizes for the winner, and participants, and whose partial proceeds will benefit Childcry, a non-profit organization which feeds hungry children around the globe.

"Dance studio owners are always in need of opportunities to spread the word about their studio and increase their student enrollment. This contest is a great opportunity for dance studios to set their studio apart from others in their area, to increase their student enrollment, to build loyalty amongst the students and parents at their studio, and enhance their online presence, which is crucial in today's market. Their students will have the opportunity to vote for their dance studio online , offer testimonials about their studio through photos, and YouTube videos, and state why they believe their studio should be awarded the title of, "America's Best Dance Studio 2009", said Ashani C. Kiner .
